Scholastic Recognition Given at Convocation

Outstanding students of the last two semesters and the 1954 summer session were honored at the annual Honors Convocation last Tuesday.

Students with a grade average of 3.3 or above were honored. Recipients of scholarships and special scholastic awards were also recognized.

President Milo Ball presented the guest speaker, Senator Roman L. Hruska. The Senator spoke on "Scholarships, Leadership, and the Public Service."

Senator Hruska pointed out that the scholastic achievement of the honored students carries honor and responsibility. He said, "The greater the achievement—the greater the responsibility. The students must consider their talent to advance themselves, but they must also undertake and discharge certain duties which they owe to other people. Duty should run to the community in which they live and the people for whom they work."

Roger Dunbier was presented with a two-year scholarship to Oxford University. He was also presented with a Pi Gamma Mu medal for highest scholarship in the Social Science Department.

Sharon Erdkamp received a $25 Chi Omega award for outstanding student in the Social Science Department.

Winner of this year's Philip Sherman Essay contest was Corinne Houser. Miss Houser was presented with a $250 scholarship. Runners-up in the contest were Joan Gerry, Janice Johnson and Carolyn Nevins.

Weston Sings of Trip

Mrs. Dorothy White Weston presented her "Musical Journey of Europe" last Friday during a convocation at 10 a. m. in the University Auditorium.

Mrs. Weston told of her recent trip through Europe. She sang songs by British, French and German composers.

Home Ec Majors Accept Advanced Dietician Study

Three Omaha University Home Economic majors have accepted appointments to be intern dieticians. They are Jo Ann Doyle, Gloria Dunaway and Joanne Rentschler.

Miss Doyle and Miss Rentschler will have their internship at Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, an affiliate of Harvard University at Boston, Mass.

Miss Doyle will start July 1 and Miss Rentschler Sept. 1. The internship lasts a year.

Miss Dunaway accepted a one-year appointment to Vanderbilt University Hospital at Nashville, Tenn. She also received appointments at the University of Minnesota Hospital and Massachusetts General.

Miss Doyle received another appointment at Mayo Clinic at Rochester, Minn., while Miss Rentschler received one from the University of Virginia Hospital.

All intern dieticians in the United States received their appointments on Apr. 15. To be appointed, a letter of application is written, a transcript is sent of the student's four years of grades, a doctor's complete physical examination is reported.

Bonner, Dunn To Join Staff

Two more professors have been added to OU's new fall term list. Dr. Thomas N. Bonner is to be associate professor of history, and Dr. Joseph G. Dunn will be assistant professor of elementary education.

Dr. Bonner holds a Ph. D. from Northwestern University, and has served as academic dean at William Woods College, Fulton, Mo. For the past year he has been the visiting Fullbright Professor at the University of Mainz, Germany.

Dr. Dunn is a graduate of Drury College, Missouri, with a Master's degree from the University of Missouri. He is currently working toward his Ph. D. there. He has taught in rural schools in Montana and Missouri, and served as superintendent of schools in Norwood, Mo. For the past year he has been instructor at the University of Missouri.

OU Students To Broadcast

KBON is going to the students! Next Tuesday OU students will handle the preparation and delivery of all newscasts and commercials at the radio station.

Members of Robert McGranahan's Radio-TV News Writing class and Bruce Linton's radio and speech classes will take over the radio station from 6 a. m. to 11:30 p. m.

Students Film OU Activities

Omaha University's Radio-TV department is preparing documentary films for public relations activities.

A film explaining the journalism program is nearly completed. Another showing activities of the Speech and Dramatic Arts department is in the making.

Dr. Donald Emery, Dean of the College of Adult Education, hopes to make a film about this college which can be shown to service clubs and other adult groups.

As soon as the new library is completed, Radio-TV head Dr. Bruce Linton plans to compile a film explaining use of the library. He also plans to complete a film about the University as a whole. Dr. Linton is in charge of all films in the series.

OU ROTC Staff Change Coming Next September

Omaha U.'s ROTC Department will undergo a change in personnel next year.

Three staff officers are leaving for unknown destinations. Col. Allen H. Wood, Professor of Air Science, and Capt. Bernard Thompson, Adjutant, expect to receive transfer assignments within a month, Col. Wood reported.

Burnett to Alabama

The third officer, Commandant of Cadets Maj. John J. Burnett, has been assigned to Air Command and Staff School at Maxwell Air Force Base, Montgomery, Ala. He will attend a nine-month course of high-level training.

Col. Wood will be replaced as Professor of Air Science by Col. Walter K. Shayler. Col. Shayler will spend the remainder of the school year at Omaha U. ROTC headquarters for orientation purposes.

Col. Shayler, a graduate of the University of Washington, spent three years in England during World War II. He also served one year in the Korean War.

Several Awards Received

Col. Shayler has received the World War II Victory Medal, the American Defense Ribbon, the National Defense Service Medal, United Nations Service Medal and the Korean Service Medal.

He will begin his duties as Professor of Air Science in September.

Col. Wood said no replacement for Maj. Burnett has been selected.

OU Choir Concert Set for Tomorrow

The University Choir will present its annual Spring Concert at 8:15 p. m. tomorrow in the Auditorium.

It will be the third annual concert under the direction of Richard H. Brewer. The choir has made numerous appearances in Omaha and the surrounding area this year.

It was the guest choir for the Music Teachers National Association district convention, and Tuesday it sang for the district convention of the American Guild of Organists.

The program consists of four groups of choral music. The first group is sacred music of Schutz, Bach, Lotti and Lockwood.

The "Alto Rhapsody" by Brahms makes up the second portion. Barbara Murray, a junior music major, is soloist. Marylinn Johnson will accompany her.

The two final groups are contemporary sacred and secular selections including spirituals and other American Folk music.

Bruce Hirsch will narrate a special presentation of "The Creation" by Tom Scott.

Other soloists are Elinore Wells, Bill Ingle, Janice Collins, William Jurgens, Pat Vogel and Richard Horn.

The program is open to the public without charge.

Campus Pledges Due

Delinquent Campus Chest Pledges may be paid in the Business Office beginning today. Alpha Pi Omega, service fraternity, will accept the fees from noon until 5 p. m. each day of the week.

Air Force Cadets Work for Review

Annual Blood Drive Collects 92 Pints

"One of the smoothest-running and best organized of all our Bloodmobile visits," was the tribute paid the University by Ralph Fournier, chairman of Red Cross recruitment, to last Tuesday's Blood Drive.

Nearly 130 students registered for the Drive, but several were disqualified by Bloodmobile requirements. The total collected was 92 pints.

The staff consisted of a physician, four nurses and six Red Cross volunteers who served coffee and donuts to donors.

The men's and women's groups receiving highest percentage of membership donations will receive trophies May 13 at the Ma-Je Day Dance.

Chairman of the annual Drive were Rod Conser, Alpha Pi Omega service fraternity, and Betty Ellsworth, Red Cross College Unit.

New Janitor Night Worker

In the still of the night a lone figure can be found in the deserted halls of OU. Not an underworld character, it is Donald Stone, the new night janitor who works the 11 p. m. to 7 a. m. shift. He was added to the staff because of the growing traffic in the halls.

In the past, one cleaning of the floors per week was adequate; now, however, this must be done at least twice per week. The schedule allows for first floor cleaning more often than fourth floor.

Stone, just discharged from the Coast Guard, is busy himself. Working the night shift on Saturday through Wednesday, he attends trade school during the day. He hopes, as a result of his course in body and fender repair, to open a car repair shop with a friend.

While he isn't seen by students, his work is apparent in the mornings.

Vocal Music Groups Present Convo

The annual Easter Convocation was Apr. 5 in the University Auditorium.

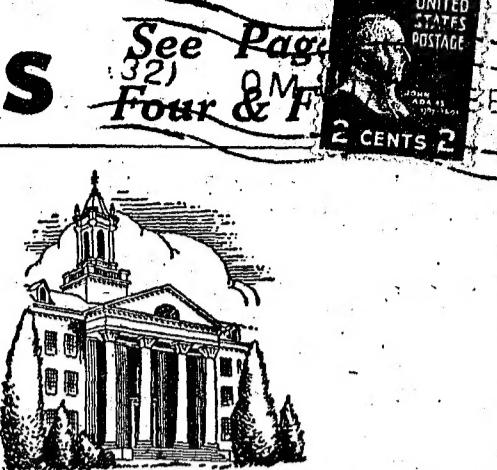

The three-part program was given by the Madrigal Singers, Arts and Science major Don McKeen and the University Choir.

Madrigal Singers opened the Convocation with the singing of Johann Sebastian Bach's Motet No. 3, "Jesus, Dearest Master."

Don McKeen read the Easter story from the Triumphant Entrance into Jerusalem to the Resurrection.

The program closed with singing of five numbers by the University choir.

Richard Brewer, vocal music instructor, directed the singers.

Department Aims For Excellent Rate At Apr. 29 Exams

Omaha University's top-ranking ROTC wing will pass in review next Friday for the annual Federal Inspection.

The two-day inspection begins at mid-morning Friday with a wing parade. Outstanding cadets from each class will also be awarded medals and prizes.

Second Phase Monday

The second phase of the inspection will be Monday, when the inspectors conduct a thorough examination of all sections of the ROTC Department.

ROTC classrooms, staff offices, the supply and rifle range will be inspected. The reviewing team will also attend ROTC classes to view the type and caliber of instruction, check the ROTC curriculum and examine the leadership training program.

The Omaha U. corps will be seeking to retain its number one ranking in the nation. The wing gained top laurels twice, in 1953 and 1954, in its four year existence.

In Competition with 207

ROTC units from 207 colleges and universities in the United States, Puerto Rico and Hawaii are competing for the award. Major John J. Burnett, assistant commandant of cadets, has high hopes for a repeat performance this year.

"Our wing is better than ever this year," Maj. Burnett reported, "and the chances are good we will maintain our number one position." He explained that the Omaha U. unit has shown improvement over the past two award-winning years, mostly through the experience gained with time.

Inspectors from Alabama

An inspection team from AF-ROTC Headquarters at Montgomery, Ala., will review the wing. Heading the inspection crew is Col. Charles F. Densford. He will be assisted by Lt. Col. Robert S. Moon and Lt. Col. Leon Smith.

Groups presenting awards include The World-Herald, the Chicago Tribune, National Aeronautics Association, Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion, Air Force Association and the 40-8 Club. Other major awards to be presented include the Reserve Officers Association Medal, the President's Medal and the Professor of Air Science Medal.

Registrars Return From Convention

Registrar Alice Smith and Assistant Registrar, Mrs. Genevieve Price, will return Monday from Boston where they attended a meeting of the National Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions Officers.

The convention was composed of registrars from the nation's universities and colleges. The meeting consisted of discussions on problems confronting college registrars.

Council, Publications Petitions Due Tues.

Petitions for Student Council and Board of Student Publications candidates are due noon Tuesday in the Dean of Student Personnel office.

The above officers and Ma-ie Day Princess will be elected May 4. Student Council members will be elected by their individual classes; other positions are by all-class vote.

Briefly, the rules drawn up by the Student Council to apply only to Council and Board of Student Publications elections are:

1. No off-campus campaigning.
2. No on-campus campaigning except in the main building and Student Center.

3. All campaigning in the main building shall be restricted to the first floor.

4. Each candidate shall be limited to three (3) posters. One (11x15 inches) will be posted, with a 3x5 card containing name, class, age, major field and activities, in the first floor showcase. One 15x20 poster may be placed in the Student Center. Another, of the same size, must be carried at all times in the main building. Each candidate's name or picture must not appear on any other than these pieces of campaign literature.

5. No campaign literature distributed or displayed anywhere, including main floor.

6. Campaigning beyond the cafeteria door pool limits shall be illegal.

Penalty for breaking the rules is immediate disqualification.

Editor's Note

The GATEWAY is speechless! And apparently so are all women. Associate speech professor J. D. Tyson called to our attention that the average speech range of from 125 to 250 cycles per second as stated in the Apr. 1 GATEWAY would eliminate all female voices.

Normal speech probably uses pitch frequencies ranging from 125 to 2,000 cycles per second.

Choir, Madrigals To Present Convo

The annual American Music Convocation will be at 10 a. m. next Friday in the University auditorium.

The convo is sponsored by Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, national professional music fraternity.

Members from Madrigals and the University Choir will sing.

Group To Give Award

A Business Administration senior will receive a $250 scholarship from the Omaha Chapter of Sales Executives. The award will be given on the basis of scholarship, personality and interest in sales management.

Lucas To Attend Business Meeting

John W. Lucas, Dean of the College of Business Administration, will attend the annual meeting of the American Association of Collegiate Schools of Business Apr. 27 to 30 in Milwaukee, Wisc.

The meeting will include the deans of all business administration colleges in the Association. Working with the theme, "Looking Ahead in College Education for Business" the deans will discuss the faculty shortage, requirements for future teachers, and methods for attracting and holding new teachers.

Tangerine Movies Shown 20 Times

Movies of the Tangerine Bowl game have been shown nearly 20 times to both OU and outside groups.

OU sponsored a public showing of all the films taken at the game. It was also shown to the Quarterback Club and several times to the football squad.

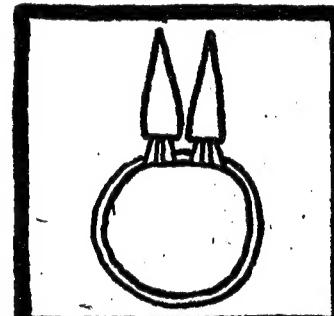

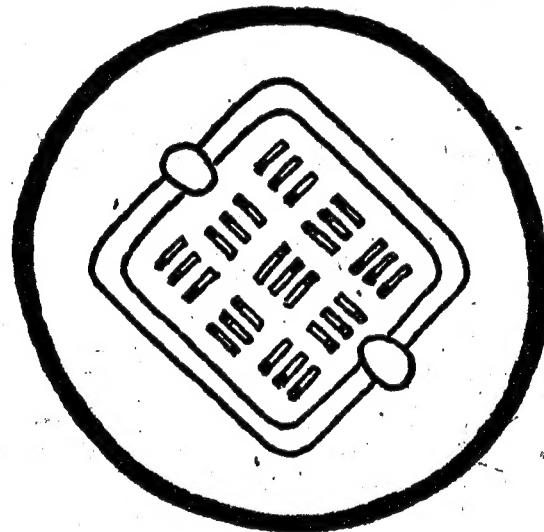

The film has gone out for various high school sports banquet showings. It has even traveled to Valley, Nebr., where Harry Johnson showed it to the Legion groups.

The film has been checked out of the Visual Aids Department almost constantly since it was given to the University.

Kayser Includes University in Will

Omaha University has been included in the will of the late Frederick W. Kayser.

Although no official court communication has reached OU, it is reported that eventually the University will inherit the interest from a $450,000 trust fund.

Kayser, a local department store executive, set up three trust funds. Two of them, willed to his nieces, are worth $100,000 each. The third, $250,000 was willed to his sister. The will states that these relatives will inherit the interest of these trust funds as long as they live. When they die, Omaha University will be the recipient of the interest on the total $450,000 principal.

No Immediate Effect

"Although the effect of the trust fund is not immediate, the inheritance is an indication that the community feels that the University program is somehow on the right track," commented Charles Hoff, vice-president of the University.

Hoff pointed out that a municipal university does not often receive the benefit of an inheritance because of the attitude that a tax-supported school is already completely financed.

Estimates Unavailable

Hoff cited one other instance in which OU was included in a will. This was the Brant Trust Fund, set up by Dr. Wesley Brant. Brant's will stated that if oil was ever struck on a certain tract of land in Wyoming, the profit should go to Omaha University. OU collected about $10,000 from the inheritance.

Because of the uncertainty of terms and the time involved, no estimates can be made to determine the amount of profit that OU will receive from the recent inheritance.

Alumni Select Date For Annual Banquet

The seventh annual Alumni Achievement Day Banquet will be June 4 in the University Auditorium.

Major award to be presented is the "Citation for Alumnus Achievement." This will be given to the alum selected by the Board of Directors for outstanding service in his field. The recipient of this award has not been announced.

Also to be presented is the "Alumni Fund Recognition Award," given to the current fund drive chairman. This year's winner is Glenn Cunningham.

Other awards include the "Athlete of the Year" given to the outstanding OU athlete, and the Jenkins Scholarship, given to a junior for high scholastic achievement and noteworthy service to the University.

Students Overlook Testing Department

Have you used your part of the $25 thousand OU spends each year to help you plan your future?

Dr. B. G. Oleson, of Testing and Guidance, said the department uses a "Scientific approach to planning academic courses with a prospective vocation in mind."

The department uses a series of tests designed to show aptitudes and interests. These tests "Provide facts," said Oleson, "for the student to base his decisions upon in planning his vocation."

Only 10 per cent of the student body takes advantage of this service, offered free of charge, to all full time students. Persons interested in testing should contact the testing and guidance department for further information.

Oleson also wished to remind students that registration for next semester is from May 9-14. He urged students to contact their counselors early to make arrangements to register for next fall.

AAS Officers Meet in D.C.

Ten representatives from Omaha U's AF-ROTC Wing journeyed to Washington, D. C., before vacation for the Arnold Air Society's National Conclave.

Host squadron for the annual event was the University of Maryland. Officers stayed at the Statler Hotel.

National officers in the AAS representing OU included John Cottrell, Chris Crowder, Jim DuBois, Larry Peters, National Commander of the Society, and Mel Rousek.

Others were Frank Pazlar, Omaha U Earl S. Hoak Squadron Commander of AAS, Jerry Korisko, delegate and alternate, respectively, and Darrell Githens, Sabres Flight representative.

Faculty advisers accompanying the group were Maj. John J. Burnett and Lt. Duane Post.

'Miracle Mile' Nets over $850

One hundred and twenty-three OU students gave a helping hand to the crippled children in Douglas County. They are the students who participated in the "Miracle Mile" drive on Palm Sunday.

They collected $864.49 to be distributed to organizations which benefit handicapped children.

OU alum Richard Holland, drive chairman, said, "It was wonderful that the students took such an active interest, and I wish that it were possible for me to thank them all personally."

Why do more college men and women smoke VICEROYS than any other filter cigarette?

BECAUSE ONLY VICEROY GIVES YOU A PURE, NON-MINERAL, NON-TOXIC FILTER WITH 20,000 FILTER TRAPS IN EVERY FILTER TIP!

1. Yes, only Viceroy has this filter composed of 20,000 tiny filter traps. You cannot obtain the same filtering action in any other cigarette.

2. Besides being non-mineral and non-toxic, this cellulose-acetate filter never shreds or crumbles.

3. The Viceroy filter wasn't just whipped up and rushed to market to meet the new and skyrocketing demand for filtered cigarettes. Viceroy pioneered. Started research more than 20 years ago to create the pure and perfect filter.

4. Smokers en masse report that filtered Viceroys have a finer flavor even than cigarettes without filters. Rich, satisfying, yet pleasantly mild.

5. Viceroy draws so easily that you wouldn't know, without looking, that it even had a filter tip . . . and Viceroys cost only a penny or two more than cigarettes without filters!

That's why more college men and women smoke VICEROYS than any other filter cigarette . . . that's why VICEROY is the largest-selling filter cigarette in the world!

Military Ball Tonight; 5,000 People Expected

"The Military Ball tonight will be the biggest dance in University history," Chairman Frank Pazlar promises.

He said a crowd of 5,000 is expected for the Air Force ROTC event at the new City Auditorium. The Ball will last from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m.

The 25-member Sauter-Finegan Orchestra will arrive in Omaha this afternoon. Co-directors Eddie Sauter and Bill Finegan will be interviewed on radio and television before the Ball.

The Arena will be transformed into a ballroom with a three-tier bandstand at one end and tables around the sides of the auditorium.

Highlight of the evening will be the revealing of the Honorary Colonel.

Lew Radcliffe will serve as master of ceremonies for intermission activities. The ROTC band, directed by Cadet Col. John Vana, will be first on the program. Then local, state and military dignitaries will be presented.

The Angelettes will dance to a medley of spring songs. As the Miss Ellsworth is president of Chi Omega sorority, managing editor of the GATEWAY, and president of the Press Club and Red Cross.

Her other activities include Marching Angels, Angels publications officer, Home Economics Club vice-president and University Players. She is secretary of the Board of Student Publications.

Color, Mood Themes For Sauter-Finegan

Two men who have worked behind the scenes arranging music for some of the nation's top bands will direct their own orchestra in Omaha tonight.

The Sauter-Finegan Orchestra, directed by Eddie Sauter and Bill Finegan, will play for the University's annual Air Force ROTC Military Ball at the City Auditorium from 9 to 1.

Sauter, formerly with Benny Goodman, was responsible for many of the Sing King's arrangements.

Finegan has written for Tommy Dorsey and other national bands the past 10 years. He wrote most of the arrangements for the Glenn Miller band during the four years it existed.

Sauter and Finegan launched their orchestra in late 1952. With emphasis on swing, the 25-piece orchestra is reminiscent of the 1930's when the band, rather than the vocalist, was the most popular element in the world of entertainment.

"The music of our band can best be summed up in two words—color and mood," explains Sauter.

Military Ball tickets, $3.50 per couple or $1.25 for each spectator, may be purchased at the University ticket booth, Schmoller-Mueller Piano Company, or from ROTC cadets or Angels Flight members.

Fourth Annual AF-ROTC Ball Tonight

Colonel's Name Secret Until Grand March

The identity of the Honorary Colonel will be kept a secret up to the last minute at tonight's Military Ball. The six candidates for the title will not know until Grand-March time who will accompany Ball Colonel Frank Pazlar, leader of the March.

The six candidates were chosen by Arnold Air Society vote. Members of the Arnold Air Society voted again last Friday for the Honorary Colonel following a session of talks given by the candidates.

Ballots Counted Today

Maj. John J. Burnett, Capt. John Plantikow, Jerry Norene, and Ball Chairman Pazlar will count the ballots today.

Besides the Honorary Colonel, two honorary lieutenant colonels and two honorary majors will be presented.

Candidates for the top honor include Gayle Anderson, a junior, who has been a member of the Angels group for two years. A home economics major, Gayle has been a Marching Angel for two years and an Angelette for one year. She will participate in the Angelette routine for tonight's Ball. Gayle designed the invitations and programs for the Ball and helped with the Angels brochure. She was also a conclave hostess.

Also on the list of finalists is senior education major Jean DuBois. She has been a member of Angels for three years and has danced with the Angelettes for two years. Jean served as publications officer her junior year and received the Gold Star award this year. Jean is a first lieutenant.

A junior home ec-journalism major, Betty Ellsworth has been an Angel two years. She is a member of Marching Angels and was an Angelete last year. Betty has also served as publications officer of Angels. She is a first lieutenant. Betty served on the lyrics committee for the Ball.

First lieutenant Donna Rasgorshek is a two-year member of Angels. A Marching Angel for two years, Donna also served one year with the Angelettes. An English major, Donna was on the lyric committee for the Ball. She was awarded a Gold Star this year. She worked on the conclave publication last year.

Rentschler Is Historian

Joanne Rentschler, a senior dietetics major, has served in several capacities during her three year Angels career. A Marching Angel for three years, Joanne also was a member of Angelettes for two years. A captain, she has served as Historian for Angels for three years, keeping all publicity and pictures in a scrapbook form. Joanne also received a Gold Star for achievement this year.

Lois Tate, a first lieutenant by rank and a sociology major, has been an Angel for two years. During these two years, Lois, a junior, has been a Marching Angel. She was awarded a Gold Star. Lois is on the grand march committee for tonight's Ball and worked on the conclave last year.

Famous Aviatrix Here for OU Ball

Arlene Davis, world famous aviatrix and Honorary Commander of Angels Flight, arrived in Omaha this morning from Cleveland, Ohio, to attend the fourth annual Military Ball.

This is the third consecutive year Miss Davis has been at the OU ball.

She spoke to members of Angels Flight this morning at a breakfast in the faculty clubroom.

Society Is Organized By Insurance Majors

Insurance majors are organizing the Insurance Society at a meeting today at 2 p. m. in Room 283. Dr. Grant Osborne will sponsor the organization.

Officers will be elected at the meeting. Pat Tanner will serve as chairman.

Chi O's, Pi Kaps Receive Trophies at Greek Banquet

Chi Omega and Pi Kappa Alpha won the group scholarship awards at the annual Greek Week Banquet held at OU Apr. 1. Chi Omega's win granted them the privilege of keeping the silver tray.

Jo Olsen won the women's active scholarship trophy, while Marilyn Kline, JoAnn Manger and Susan Rowe tied for the pledge scholarship award.

Roger Dunbier and Robert Hinkins were awarded the scholarship trophies for men actives and pledges respectively.

Sue Moss and Bob Rasgorshek were presented as the outstanding pledges.

Pi Kappa Alpha walked away with the basketball award, while Theta Chi won the football honor and Sigma Phi Epsilon took the Sweepstakes Trophy.

IFC Keys were given to all Interfraternity Council members by Dean Don Pflasterer.

Dean Jay B. MacGregor spoke at the banquet which climaxed a week of Help Week activities.

Following the dinner, members of each sorority and fraternity sang one of their group songs.

The annual Greek Week dance was held at Peony Park following the banquet.

Names in the News'Man Behind Scenes,' Mitchell, Not Forgotten

By Marvin Lincoln

The man behind the scenes is often forgotten in the dynamic bustle of a stage production.

But John Mitchell, assistant to Dr. Edwin Clark, doesn't mind the oblivion that comes with masterminding a play or musical. For John has enjoyed his share of glory before the footlights during his school career.

John, a junior majoring in Speech, Dramatics and English, has participated in every school production since entering Omaha U — either as an actor or producer.

He began his production career this year as Dr. Clark's co-ordinator and right-hand man. His duties include ordering plays from publishing houses, helping select casts, planning and design of sets and actual construction of sets.

But John would rather be acting than backstage. "It doesn't require as much time as backstage duties," he says. However, John thinks there is more responsibility and work connected with behind-the-scenes tasks. "Things have to be done and the backstage manager is the one who has to do them," John believes.

John had no acting experience before entering Omaha U. He gives credit to an unidentified girl for helping him launch his dramatic career.

While a freshman, he attended a play rehearsal, sensing an opportunity to meet an unknown but very attractive female. He landed a part in the play, but never saw the girl again.

John believes there is no such thing as a star in a play. "It doesn't matter how small a person's part is, the play still won't be effective without him. Everyone connected with a play—from stage managers to prompters—are an integral part of the production," he asserted.

A teaching future may be in store for John, but he has considered making a career of the Marines. "Once you get in the service," he says, "you can't help thinking about coming back to it."

Men Who Sew Not Sissies Any Longer

Calling all Men! Have you often envied your sister's ability to sew? Do you wish you could repair that tear in your shirt? Would you like to operate a sewing machine as well as a power drill? If so, the answer to your prayers may soon be at hand.

In a recent nationwide survey of 5,471 boys and girls between ages 12 and 19, the Youth Research Institute discovered that boys who sew are no longer considered sissies.

The Rand Youth poll discarded the theory that sewing is "woman's work." Nearly half of the teenagers interviewed did not think a boy who sewed was a sissy. The poll also revealed that about 40 per cent of the boys, especially those in rural areas, do a certain amount of sewing.

Forty-four per cent of the boys and girls said that boys should be allowed to attend high school sewing classes. The poll showed that there is a definite tendency nowadays to deride males who sew.

Whaaat?

The answer to the "Whaaat" picture that appeared in the April Fool edition of the GATEWAY is: a manhole cover and its ventilator projection that stands outside the engineering quonset hut.

Correct answers were turned in by Dick Langhammer and Jim Tscharner.

No persons giving the correct answer are listed here unless their entries followed specifications set down in the contest.

For several weeks the odor in Dick Eckstrom's car got worse and worse. It wasn't quite like burning rubber or gasoline fumes, but it was annoying. Finally a search was made.

Found in the truck was a definitely worse-for-the-wear pheasant, thrown in and forgotten, a month before.

In a recent election campaign, two small bunny rabbits were used to attract attention to the candidate. A mild revolution began when one rabbit disappeared. After a frantic two hour search, the rabbit was found blissfully munching lettuce on a cafeteria shelf.

Result: The candidate was billed 25 cents for the lettuce.

The classroom was silent; the students' faces were stern. It was a mid-term exam. The professor asked the next test question. Nine mouths dropped; nine faces frowned. One enlightened student raised his hand and asked of the bewildering test question, "Is it as big as a bread box?"

One OU student apparently doesn't realize what he is getting into! He was seen in the Shack calmly playing ping-pong on his wedding day. One coed turned to her girl friend and said—"That's probably the last thing he'll ever win!"

Defending champion of the Inter-fraternity Council Trophy is Sigma Phi Epsilon. They have won it for the last two years.

Brown Leads Three Lives
As Teacher, Mother, Author

She leads three lives!

Far from the counterspy type of triple existence, Mrs. Marion Marsh Brown is teacher, mother, and author. She is familiar to many English 109 and 111 day students and to Adult Ed English 114 students as she has taught these courses during the past year at OU.

Her newest book, Broad Stripes and Bright Stars, recently released, has kept her hopping from place to place. After finishing classes, she is asked to review and autograph the book and give talks on writing in the schools.

Mrs. Brown has written several books on history since 1949, but from a new angle. She has traveled to the parts of the country where each of her characters lived, but has written the stories as though the factual plots were fiction.

Her writing is not confined to novels, however, as she writes numerous short stories. Several of her works have appeared in all types of publications from the World-Herald magazine section to her newest story in the Canadian Home Journal, comparable to our Ladies' Home Journal.

Indian Football Squad Toils for Alumni Game

Coach Joe Arenas Drills Alumni Team Four Times a Week

By Robert Henkel

Coach Lloyd Cardwell had his 40 football prospects hard at work this week. The candidates have put on pads and are doing body contact and light scrimmage work.

"Cardie" has given out "T" Formation plays and has the back-field men already running through the plays. The head football coach says the "T" he will use will be with the unbalanced line.

Under NCAA rules spring football practice is limited to 20 workouts. Indian football practice will end with the annual Varsity-Alumni game, which will be played on Saturday, May 7.

Twenty-one of the candidates out for spring football are lettermen. Three of last year's undefeated squad did not report for spring training. The three are playing baseball for Virgil Yelkin. They are John Cimino, Wayne Malnack and Marv Nevins.

The Alumni football squad has begun a four practice per week schedule in preparation for the May 7 encounter with the Indian Varsity squad.

Player-coach Joe Arenas has 35 candidates working out at 5 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays, and 1 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays. Arenas will probably use San Francisco 49er play patterns.

Six coaches will be playing for the Alumni. At least three of last year's undefeated squad will also play for the Alumni. They are Jerry Tannahill, Rudy Rotella and Emil Radik. Rotella and Radik are draft choices for the National Football League.

Arenas will begin his fifth year with the 49ers this season.

OUWI Prepares For Spring Dinner

Preparations are underway for the annual spring Omaha University Women's Intramurals banquet, May 9.

Chairman for the event is Blanche Bell. At the banquet winners of team and individual sports tournaments will be announced, as well as the honorary volleyball and basketball teams.

T-Formation makes appearance at Indian spring football practice.

Gorr To Take Nine To Kansas U Relays

Coach Ernie Gorr is taking a nine-man track squad to the Kansas Relays today. Included will be a mile relay team, a two-mile relay team, and possibly a sprint medley quartette.

The Kansas Relays are held at

Lawrence, Kansas, and are one of the biggest annual track and field meets in the nation.

Gorr is taking Bill Barnes, Bob Barnes, Bob Gerdeman, Lloyd Hunter, Bill Jensen, Bernie Lainson, Larry Means, Dave Pillar and Bob Trumbauer.

Indian Cindermen Win Three; Only Omaha Loss Is Drake

By Larry Means

Coach Ernie Gorr's cindermen turned in creditable performances during the last two weeks, winning three meets, tying one and losing one.

Dana College with Marion Hudson managed a tie with Omaha University in a triangular with Midland College, Apr. 5.

The Indians traveled to South Dakota University Apr. 9 and won the seventh annual Invitational over Wayne State Teachers College, 56 to 53 1/2.

Outstanding performance of the day was Bob Gerdeman's record: 49.4 quarter mile.

OU Edges Washburn

The mile relay was the deciding factor again when Washburn University traveled to the Indian track Apr. 13 for a dual meet.

Omaha won 68 to 63, but Washburn swept all the first places in the field events, and OU failed to make a point in the shot-put and the javelin.

Drake University handed Omaha trackmen their first loss of the outdoor season last Saturday with a narrow 67 5/6 to 63 1/6 victory.

The Bulldogs monopolized all the field events except the broadjump to collect early points, and Omaha ran the entire meet in second place.

Wesleyan and Doane Fall

The Indian track squad copped their final home meet last Tuesday as they ran over Nebraska Wesleyan and Doane. Final score was Omaha 85 1/2, Doane 51 1/2 and Wesleyan 33.

Performances were far from good, as a 30-mile-an-hour south wind hindered runners. One strong gust blew Mel Decker off the track in the mile. He recovered in time to place an easy third.

Omaha took the first three places in the mile and 880, and the first two places in the 440 for their major victories.

The team has lost the services of Wayne Larsen, three year 440 ace. Larsen suffered an abdominal injury at the South Dakota Relays.

Take Care!

First man: Why, there's nothing wrong with your girl reading all those marriage magazines. That's just a lot of gushy nonsense.

Second man: I know, but it's the implication of the thing. After all, you don't buy a road map unless you're going someplace. — (CBS Radio).

What young people are doing at General Electric

Young manager handles finances for building of $5,000,000 plant

In the next ten years, the demand for General Electric industrial heating equipment will double. To meet this demand, a giant new plant (model at right) is being built at Shelbyville, Indiana.

The plant will cost $5,000,000, and the man responsible for handling finances for the entire job is 32-year-old R. E. Fetter.

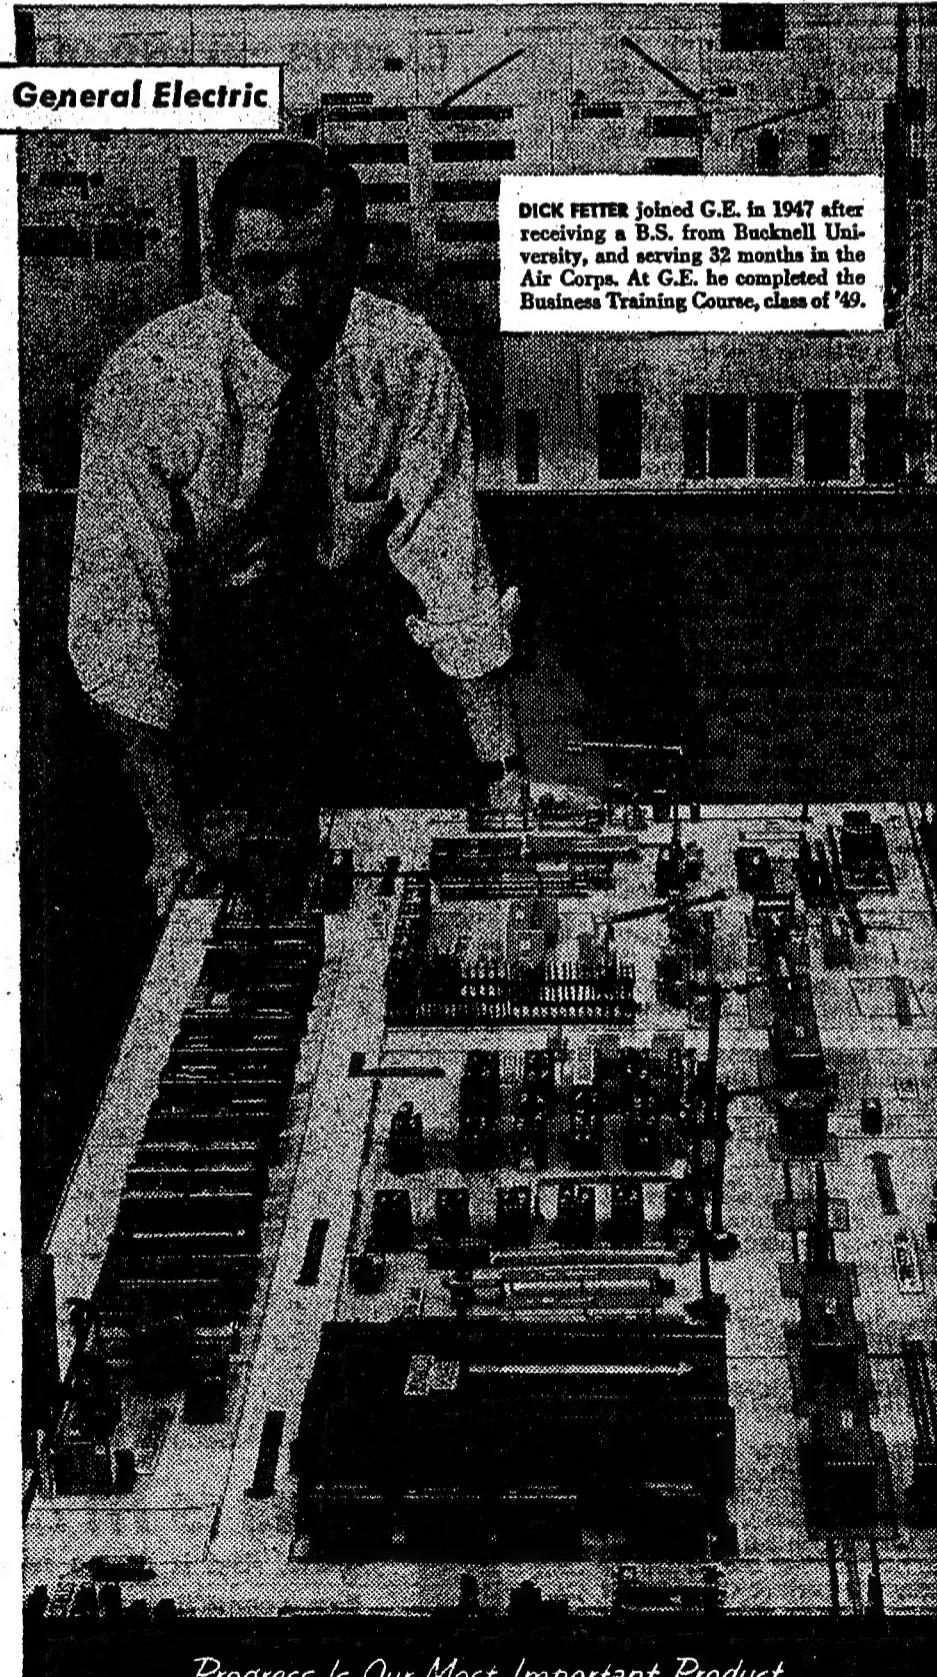

Fetter's job is important, responsible

Dick Fetter's work as Financial Manager of the Department began long before General Electric started building the plant. He and his group first had to estimate probable operating costs and predict whether the plant would be profitable.

Now, during construction, Fetter's chief concern is keeping track of all the expenses on this multimillion-dollar project. When the plant is completed, he will set up a complete financial section and manage everything from tax, cost, and general accounting to payrolls, budgets and measurements, and internal auditing.

25,000 college graduates at General Electric

This is a big job. Fetter was readied for it in a careful step-by-step program of development. Like Fetter, each of the 25,000 college-graduate employees is given his chance to grow, to find the work he does best, and to realize his full potential. For General Electric has long believed this: When young, fresh minds are given freedom to make progress, everybody benefits—the individual, the company, and the country.

OU Baseballers Meet Wesleyan

By Don Digilio

Omaha University's baseball team will meet a newcomer to this season's schedule, when they tangle with Nebraska Wesleyan on the home diamond today.

So far the Omaha team has lived up to expectations. They have plenty of hitting power and a strong bench. The only loss, playerwise, is Fritz Buglewicz. The two year letterman was injured two weeks ago sliding in to home plate against the Alumni team.

Coach Yelkin has been using different players at the third base slot vacated by Buglewicz. Chris Salberg, Omaha's number one hurler, has even been at the hot corner.

Nebraska Wesleyan's team is well fortified with veterans, and they could pose a problem to Omaha's winning ways.

The Indians have been hitting exceptionally well as two lopsided victories over Morningside indicates. Don Hansen, three year letterman, is having his best year at the plate.

Wesleyan is one of three schools this year holding a decision over Buena Vista. They blanked the Beavers 3 to 0. Their main hitting star is Foster McGuire, who is being sought by the Chicago Cubs.

Game time will be 3 p. m. on the Omaha diamond.

OU Swamps Morningside

Omaha's baseball team, flashing a giant batting attack, trounced Morningside College twice this week. The first victory was on April 15, on the new Omaha diamond. The Indians scored 11 runs in the first inning and went on to beat the Maroons 24-6.

Monday, the Omahans journeyed to Sioux City, and downed Morningside again. This time it was 17-5. Tuesday night's game against Buena Vista was halted by rain in the third inning, with Omaha holding a 3-2 edge.

Cimino Is Winning Pitcher

John Cimino pitched the first victory over Morningside College. He gave up four hits in his four inning stint, and fanned 11 batters. Bob Wheeler and Buddy Yambor each hit homeruns for the Indians. Bill Steck, Dave Langevin and Cimino collected two hits apiece.

The game in Sioux City was just a repeat of the first game. The Maroons offered little opposition. Bob Ladd was the winning hurler, pitching the first four innings.

Catchers Dean Johnson and John Morse hit for the circuit, and Ken Korinek, John Welch and Don Hansen had three hits apiece. Steck and Langevin had perfect days at the plate. Langevin scored four runs.

Malnack Homers

In the rained out game against Buena Vista, the Omaha team jumped to a 3-0 lead. In the first inning Wayne Malnack walloped a homer with a man on, after Cal Helme had scored on an infield error. The Beavers came back with two runs in the bottom of the first, and that's the way the game stayed until it was called.

Stan Schaetzle was pitching for the Omahans, trying for win number two.

In their first ball game of the season, the Indians were downed by Rockhurst at Kansas City, April 6. But they bounced back to win 6-1 the next day.

Tennis Team Blanks Midland Here, 7-0

Omaha University tennis team made it two shutouts in a row as they blanked Midland 7-0 at Dewey Park Monday. The Indians beat Morningside 9-0 last week.

In the number one match of the day Bill Berg of OU defeated Marv Langland, 6-2, 6-2. Don Fisher filled in for John Dervin and did a stellar job as he won his match in straight sets.

Bill Feddersen and Howard Larimore won matches in successive sets while Delmuth Dahlke shut out Roger Gieshen, 6-0, 6-0.

In doubles, Berg-Fisher and Feddersen-Dahlke won both of the matches for OU.

Independents Win Intramural Bowling For Second Season

For the second year in a row ISA has won the Intramural Bowling Championship.

Lambda Chi Alpha, who tied for second place, took two out of three games from the champions in the final match Thursday. But it didn't do them any good, as Independents had iced the title earlier. Pawnees tied with Lambda Chi for second place.

Lambda Chi Alpha won the Interfraternity Bowling League with a 13-8 record. Two games behind in second place was Phi Beta Chi. Lambda Chi had clinched this title last week by beating Pi Kappa Alpha.

Omaha U Rifle Team Wins First in City Rifle League

Final standings in the Intercity Rifle League show Omaha University's AF-ROTC team in top position with a 10-4 record.

The Omaha Packers copped second with nine wins and five losses. High individual average for the Indians this season was by Ted Jacob. He had 374 out of a possible 400.

In the Fifth Army Area Matches held in February, OU placed fifth out of 16 ROTC teams. This entitled Omaha to enter the National Intercollegiate Matches this month. Both matches are mail matches. That is, they are shot at each school's range and mailed to a central point for scoring.

The high school division of the Fifth Army Match was a complete rout for Omaha schools. Three Omaha high schools won the first three positions out of 101 schools entered.
